

MASTER OF ENVIRONMENT AND BUSINESS (MEB)

The MEB program
meets the growing
need for business
sustainability professionals.

NOW ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS

UNIVERSITY OF WATERLOO

MASTER OF ENVIRONMENT AND BUSINESS (MEB)

- DESIGNED FOR THE WORKING PROFESSIONAL
- PART-TIME PROGRAM OVER THREE YEARS
- DELIVERED ONLINE*

*For two weeks in August, new MEB students will come to Waterloo to learn about Business and the Case for Sustainability (ENBUS 601), meet faculty members and classmates, and hear guest lectures by environment and business leaders.

The MEB program is a part-time program of studies offered at a distance with minimal on-campus study, and with course materials delivered over the internet.

Courses include:

- Business Operations and Sustainability
- Enterprise Marketing and Social Accountability
- Strategy for Sustainable Enterprises
- Environmental Finance
- Product Life Cycle Assessment
- Sustainability Reporting
- Business Partnerships and Policy for Sustainability

For program details and course descriptions:
www.environment.uwaterloo.ca/business/grad

FEES

The MEB is a professional course-based program. Each of the ten courses is priced at $2,900(CDN).

Applications are to be completed and submitted online at:
www.grad.uwaterloo.ca/students/applyingonline.asp

For further information on the new MEB program contact:

- Professor Amelia Clarke, acclarke@uwaterloo.ca
- Linda Zepf, lzepf@uwaterloo.ca